HAS A NICE HISTORY

A New Resident Who Has Seen a Little Life.

WAS DRIVEN OUT OF THE CITY

By the Pittsburg Authorities This Week. She Dropped Into Liverpool on a Business Mission—Nervy but Also Wicked. She Once Shot Her Husband.

There came to the city the other day a woman with a history, but, sad to relate, it is not as pure and stainless as it might be.

Several years ago she lived in this place, and was a respected young girl. She was not endowed with marvelous beauty nor was she considered so entertaining as to attract great crowds of admirers. She had no great store of wealth, and earned her daily bread by diligently plying her needle from day to day. She was considered as modest and respectable as any, and had numerous friends to sustain her when the trials of life came upon her, as they do upon many girls earning their living. At length a tempter came into her humble home, and worked with all the devilish ingenuity he could command. The girl resisted him for a time, but the end came, and she fell. Overwhelmed with disgrace and shame she could no longer face the kind friends who had supported her when she most needed aid, and hoping to hide her shame from the world she buried herself in Pittsburg. But even there she was beset with temptation, and the difficulties attending the task of regaining what she had lost were so great as to drive her from the beaten path. Once started on the downward course she soon became known, and her admirers were many. Among them was a handsome fellow whose name was well known to the police, and he so plainly manifested his affection that he won the heart of the Liverpool girl and they were married. For a time they got along very well, but at length the lives of the two began to separate and one day the husband came home drunk as a demon and attempted to knock his wife down. She had been preparing for just such an emergency, and when he moved toward her she caught up a revolver and fired. The bullet found its way into his breast, and sinking to the floor he lay as one dead. The woman believed she had killed him and her cries of remorse were awful to hear, but subsequent events showed that his time had not yet come. The woman was arrested, and while she was safe behind the bars bemoaning the effects of her effort to protect her life, the husband was rapidly regaining his strength. When it was settled beyond any doubt that he would not die she was released, and became the proprietress of a questionable place in the lower part of the city. There she held high carnival with her friends, and many are the Liverpool men, it is said, who have found her out and visited the place. At length the place had gained a reputation which the police did not like and the house was raided. The authorities believed it would be a good thing for the city if she took up her abode in other quarters, and she was invited to leave town within two hours. She knew the Pittsburg police well enough to pack up and get out, and now it is said she is here looking up a location in which to ply her nefarious business. She has been here several days, but it is not known whether she has decided to stay here until the police find it out or leave for more fertile fields. Meantime the husband is in jail. His life has not been so perfect in the past as to clear him from suspicion, and he must at times pay the penalty. He has been in many encounters and bears the scars of many a struggle.

The story as given above was told at city hall this morning to a knot of eager listeners, and there was more than one to suggest the belief that the woman would not long remain in the city.

JUDGE WOODBURY DEAD.

An Eminent Jurist Passed Away at Cambridgeboro.

Word reached here today that Hon. H. B. Woodbury, judge of the circuit court, had died on Tuesday night in Cambridgeboro, Pa., after a long illness from Bright's disease. He had gone there in the hope of regaining his health, and death was not altogether unexpected. He was well known in this county, having conducted common pleas court many times prior to 1885, when he was elevated to the circuit bench. When the news reached Lisbon an effort was at once started by Clerk Ed A. King to have a large delegation of attorneys attend the funeral, which takes place tomorrow at Jefferson.

Judge Woodbury was in his sixty-third year and for over 21 years has been a judge. In 1878 he was a member of the Ohio state constitutional convention, and early in 1884 he was elected to the position of common pleas judge, which office he held until 1884, at which time the circuit court for this district was established, when he was elected circuit judge for the full term of six years and in 1890 was elected to succeed himself.

SCARED THE HORSES

Fire Crackers Affect the City Fire Department.

The small boy has already started to observe the Glorious, and with all the spare change he can command is gathering in the requisites for a rousing time. A party of youngsters scared the fire department horses the other evening, and had one of them dancing until he was quieted by kind words and gentle pats. Officer Meador found a crowd engaged at the sport at the head of Broadway last night, and in a fatherly way delivered them a neat lecture on the terrors of the mayor's castle, pointing out in vivid description the mahogany bedsteads and marble floors.

Robert Hales, father of the boy who was with the son of Doctor Williams when he was thrown from his horse and seriously hurt, says the story of the accident has not been truthfully told. According to the side as presented by his son, the boys had been riding for some time before the accident happened, and Hales had nothing to do with it. The boys were near the brick yard when another boy named Jackson struck at the pony with a base ball bat, and the animal shied and threw the boy. The exchange of saddles, according to Mr. Hales, was made at the stable an hour and a half before the accident happened, and if the tack was placed in the saddle then the horse would have kicked long before he did.

HOW IT CHANGES.

The Brighton News Is Now On Another Course.

The following from the New Brighton News is of interest:

"Captain Harry Palmer, of East Liverpool, O., qualified as a sharpshooter at Company B's range Saturday. He made the wonderful score of 49 out of a possible 50. Mr. Palmer is said to be one of the best marksmen in the National Guard. Harry Watson also qualified as a sharpshooter, making 45 points."

Captain Palmer was engaged on the Beaver Valley News for a number of years before coming to this city, and did much to make the paper a paying investment. He was engaged on it at the time he was blackmailed by unprincipled parties, and defied them, losing on a charge which has convicted many an innocent man. The owner and proprietor of the News believed in Captain Palmer's innocence, as per the proprietor's own word; but, with utter lack of moral courage, failed to stand by him, fearing public opinion might hurt his business.

THAT ARREST.

Professor Wallace Was In the Diamond Last Night.

Acting on the determination to "arrest Ward in his mad career," Professor Wallace appeared in the Diamond last night and gave the holiness people opposed to churches a rap they will not forget if any were there to hear it. He pronounced their doctrine nonsense and found no earthly good in the condemnation of the Christian religion. Then he brought out his own beliefs, and talked about the perfect man, showing how all the greatness of all great men was embodied in the Carpenter's Son of Nazareth. It was an interesting lecture and much more instructive than the libelous screeds that have heretofore been delivered in the Diamond.

Mr. Ward was not present at the meeting, and it was quietly whispered about that he had business out of the city last night after the announcement was made that Professor Wallace would speak.

BENJAMIN TILL DEAD.

A Well-Known Potter Buried Yesterday at East Palestine.

Benjamin Till, a potter who was well known in the city when he worked here, was buried in East Palestine yesterday. Deceased has been ill with kidney trouble, and failing to find relief at home was taken to a Pittsburg hospital, where he was subjected to several operations, and at length died. The remains were taken to East Palestine by his brother-in-law, John Stoffel, of this place, and the funeral was largely attended.

OUR SHAPES ARE GOOD

And Our Decorations Catch the Public Eye.

WHY SEVEN BUYERS ARE HERE

They Want Stock For Department Stores, and Know They Can Find the Best in Liverpool—They Sell Quick and Must Have Attractive Goods.

There was a smile in the office of more than one pottery yesterday and today and the men who did the selling began to wonder if trade was really going to pick up once more.

The cause of this cheerful commotion lay in the presence of several crockery buyers in the city on this same day. They were R. J. Calm, A. Murdison, S. J. Kline, C. Flint, H. Rott, C. F. Burton and A. A. Heald. Their business here was to buy crockery for the least money possible, and in such quantities as to provide the large department stores they represent with goods. They are from the Trades Syndicate, and buy the stock for 10 large stores. Since American ware is on the English basis of price they come here to buy in preference to taking the material from the importers, because they know that Liverpool ware is as good as any, and the decorations and shapes are more saleable than English goods. A well known potter told a reporter that the sign was a good one, and he hoped this start would bring other buyers to town. Department stores only want shapes that will sell well and without delay, and the patronage given this place is significant, to say the least.

A POTTERY SUIT.

The Trenton Potteries Company Is In Court.

A special from Trenton gives this interesting information: "The suit of the Trenton Potteries' Sanitary ware trust against the Oliphant Bros., of the Bellmark Pottery company, to restrain the latter from manufacturing sanitary pottery, was before Vice Chancellor Bird today. The Trenton Potteries company alleges that the Oliphants are violating the agreement entered into by them when the Delaware pottery was purchased by the syndicate. The trust says the Oliphants agreed not to manufacture sanitary ware, except in the western territory. The Oliphants declare the agreement is against public policy, in that it creates a trust, and further charge that the Trenton Potteries company's managers are operating a pottery in Tiffin, O., which is outside the syndicate, and this is prejudicial to them as stockholders in the Trenton Potteries company."

TWO GAMES

Arranged For by the Red-Headed Club, Other Contests.

The Liverpool Reds made arrangements last night to play the Smoky Row Stars on Thursday next at 4 o'clock on the West End grounds, and the Eclipse club on the same diamond on July 1. The game with the Eclipse team is merely because the Young Men's Christian Association team has refused to play either the Eclipse or the Reds until the two clubs have had a game.

The Duquesne club is after the scalps of the Audubons and hereby challenge them to a game of ball.

The teams from Burford Bros. and Dresden potteries have arranged for a game on the West End grounds this afternoon.

UNDRESSED KIDS.

They Were All the Rage On the River Shore Yesterday.

Officer Meador observed a crowd of boys in the garb provided by nature playing on the river bank yesterday afternoon not far from the island. As they were dancing around like so many heathens, and manifested great delight in making people blush, the officer surrounded them as best he could, and drove them in a flock before him. But they had faced the police before, and crossing to the other side only smiled. Bathing in the city limits will not be tolerated by the authorities, although they want the public as clean as any one.

LAUGHING IN HIS SLEEVE.

Squire Rose Thinks There is Method in Harlan Smith.

When Squire Rose fined Smith for shooting fish in St. Clair township yesterday and declared the bond of his brother forfeited he laughed a little in his sleeve for he believes there is a neatly laid plan in the case. As the squire views it, Smith's father, who is also his bondsman, was anxious to have him stay away because he did not want him around home, and did not injure his health going after the boy. Whether this supposition be correct or false Squire Rose will collect the bond of $50 or sue for it. The state will get something out of it anyway.

THAT FARMER CASE.

The Farmers Are Liable to Lose Their Outfit This Time.

The Farmer case grows more complicated, and promises to rival the famous barbed wire case before it ends. As mentioned in the NEWS REVIEW the well drilling outfit used by F. J. Farmer which has been attached, relieved, mortgaged and sued for time and again, was seized Saturday by Constable Lyon on executions in favor of John Childs, of Smith's Ferry, and M. Brozka, of this city. Yesterday morning Helena Farmer claimed the goods as she has done previously and replevined them before Squire Morley out of Constable Lyon's hands giving bond. Then Childs replevined the stuff from her before Squire Rose. He also gave bond. Her case will be tried before Squire Morley at city hall at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning and will decide the right of property. Childs' replevin will be tried before Squire Rose at city hall Monday at 9 o'clock and it is the opinion of authorities that Childs has such a good lien that the Farmers will lose.

WHO WAS FOOLED?

A Bride and Groom Who Arrived Home Ahead of Time.

George Apple, clerk in the maintenance of way office, Wellsville, took unto himself a wife in Minerva last night and was expected home today at noon. Just to fool the boys around the depot they came in at 4 o'clock this morning. They were observed and when George awoke this morning he was surprised to see a curious crowd outside the place.

Investigation showed that the boys weren't so badly fooled after all. They had decorated the porch on Front street with carnations and bits of white ribbon, rubber boots, etc., and a big sign read, "Mr. and Mrs. George L. Apple reside here. We were married last night at 8 o'clock. We are at home now. Wouldn't that kill you?" To heap further indignities upon him someone sent George a high chair by express this morning.

A COUPLE OF NOTES

To Be Tested Before Justices of the Peace.

W. L. Smith & Co. entered suit in Squire Rose's court this morning against Mrs. Mary Coulson for $247 due on a note given in May 1893. The case will be tried on Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

The J. B. M. Nobb Ice company versus John S. Dixon is a case filed in Squire Rose's court today. Plaintiffs seek to recover $191.97 claimed due on a promissory note. Hearing Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

The case of John S. Dixon versus John Goddard for $225 damages, claimed for use of a team of horses, will be tried before Squire Morley at city hall tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock. It will likely prove interesting.

ONE REASON

Why the Old Cemetery Should Be Made a Park.

"I have been reading what the NEWS REVIEW has to say about changing the old cemetery into a park," said a business man this morning, "and have looked into the matter for my own satisfaction. All the statements are true, and the place should be changed as soon as council can do it. I walked through there the other evening, and not having been there for several years, I was surprised at the ruin and desolation to be seen all through the place. Boom the park; we need it."

MASHED FIVE FINGERS.

Brakeman Ralston's Accident While Coupling.

C. S. Ralston, a brakeman on the local which passes through here at noon, had the misfortune to have his hand caught between the bumpers while making a coupling at the freight depot. He was taken by Agent Thomas to Doctor Noble in Wellsville, who dressed the injury, and saw that the young man was sent to his home in Smithfield. The hand is badly mashed, but it is not known whether the fingers will have to come off.

Made Good Time.

Joseph Smith left on his wheel this morning for Lisbon, and in an hour and twenty minutes from the time he departed he telephoned back that he was there. This is splendid time, and so far as is known, breaks the record. Mr. Smith's friends think of entering him in the road race.

WILL MAKE A CHANGE

Mayor Gilbert's View of the Burns Case.

THINKS IT WILL AFFECT THE LAW

The Mayor Does Not Specify, but Believes There Will Be Something Out of the Ordinary—The Ordinance May Lose Its Usefulness.

Mayor Gilbert has views upon the outcome of the Burns trial which he thinks will cause a change or two in the law.

Tim Burns was arrested for selling liquor on Sunday, and the trial resulted in conviction; the plea of his attorney that the place was not his saloon, but a club room, was not taken as proof that he was innocent, and the case was appealed. Burns gave $100 bond, and was released by order of the court without paying the fine of $50 and costs. Now the mayor has been thinking since that time, and believes there will be a change in the law. He will not explain the idea that has come into his mind, but he does not attempt to conceal the belief that the law will lose its effect. He does not attempt to show the exact nature of the change, but he has his misgivings. If the ordinance is defective, or the club rooms cannot be raided by the police, look out for lively Sundays in the future.

Yesterday morning Mayor Gilbert received a communication which will also have its effect upon Sunday observance. It was in the form of a petition signed by the officers of all the churches and asking that there be a better observance of Sunday. Whether this was prepared in anticipation of the Burns case failing and the appearance of holes in the ordinance, is not given out, but it doubtless means a general move for the suspension of business on the first day of the week. The police have been faithful as any men could be in the performance of duty, and have worked many an extra hour to catch a saloon man napping, and it cannot be directed against them.

ANOTHER SUIT.

Brought by a Defunct Insurance Company—Court News.

Special to NEWS REVIEW.

LISBON, June 20.—Suit was entered today by Edwin Mansfield and William M. Hahn, as trustees of the Buckeye Mutual Fire Insurance company, of Shelby, against C. Mettsch, of East Liverpool. Plaintiffs seek to recover $155.10, claimed due as an assessment made against him on July 1, 1891, when he had his property insured to the amount of $2,000. The company went under and was put in the hands of a receiver the same month that defendant insured.

AN EXCITING RACE.

Cyclists Ride From Lisbon Today—Jack Steele the Winner.

LISBON, June 20.—In the road race from the court house to Shelton's grove today, a distance of six miles, Jack Steele won first prize, a diamond ring. Walter, the son of Attorney John McVicker, had a collision and was badly injured while his wheel was wrecked.

Two Court Cases.

Special to NEWS REVIEW.

LISBON, June 20.—The jury in the case of Charles Sipe, a local fireman, for assaulting a member of another department, returned a verdict of guilty this afternoon. He has not been sentenced.

Adam Keldasch plead guilty to selling liquor to an habitual and paid $50 and costs. His wife paid $25 and costs on the same charge.

Surveying the Route.

Special to NEWS REVIEW.

LISBON, June 20.—Surveyors are at work today on the proposed route for the new electric railway from East Liverpool to Lisbon and Salem. The route is the site of the old Erie railroad.

Going to be Married.

LISBON, June 20.—The following marriage licenses were issued this morning by Judge Young.

D. C. Whiteleather and Miss Kate Essick; Charles Raffle and Miss Mollie McMillen.

Seeking a New Trial.

LISBON, June 20.—In court this morning a motion was made for a new trial in the case of Professor Wolf, of Wellsville, against the manager and proprietors of the New Grand Opera House, East Liverpool.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., THURSDAY, JUNE 20.

For President,
WILLIAM MCKINLEY,
of Ohio.

THE TICKET.

For Governor,
ASA S. BUSHNELL.
For Lieutenant Governor,
ASA W. JONES.
For Auditor of State,
WALTER GUILBERT.
For Judge of Supreme Court,

For Infirmary Director,
J. M. MCKRIDE.

THE young Republicans of the country are for McKinley. In him they see a statesman far above the level of politicians who break into congress,
blaze a few months like a flambeau,
and then sink into an obscurity darker than the darkness surrounding them
when they first came to light.

WILLIE WILSON, who framed
the tariff law, is out in another explanation. This time he explains "the deficit is not due to the customs duties but to the deficiency in the internal revenue collections on account of the whisky trouble." William should immerse that mammoth dome of thought which surmounts his bony frame in a bucket of cold water. Such brainy thoughts may cause the wheels to move too rapidly for his health.

ADVERTISING VALUE.

The man who wrote the following should go down in history as a keen observer:

"There is no better index of the value of an advertising medium than the stability of its advertising. The paper which loses its advertisers as fast as it obtains them may be safely disregarded. Where a publication retains the bulk of its advertising
year after year, its hold upon its customers speaks volumes for its value."
That tells the story of the News Review. In the three years it has been published by its present owners
it has preserved its original advertising almost intact. A few have come and a few have gone, but the business men who know the value of an advertising medium keep the place they occupied when they made the original contracts, and they are many.

NO SILVER LEGISLATION.

The prospects of the silver men making money out of the next congress is at present rather slim, in fact so slim that they prefer to influence votes in the state legislature and attempt to put their senatorial candidates into office. Some chap with a firm seated desire to know has been counting the next house of representatives, and finds only 22 of the 244
Republicans in favor of free silver.
Of the 105 Democrats 30 can not swallow the plan to make mine owners wealthy at the expense of the public.
Cleveland's open opposition to the silverites is also an indication that honest money will have an inning, and the result of the contests for seats will not make a great change in the figures as given above. A free silver bill would meet with scant support in that assembly of statesmen, and it will be a courageous congressman who will attempt to take up time in producing
it. With congress against silver and the craze already dying out there is hope for the future.

BIG CROWDS IN KIEL.

Visitors Circling Around Warships in Pleasure Steamers.

THE KAISER AT A BANQUET.

A Brilliant Affair Given at the Rathaus
in Hamburg—The Emperor Made a Pleasing Speech—Empress Augusta Received With Great Ceremony.

KIEL, June 20.—Visitors are flocked in thousands in the streets of the town and in the harbor, and every place is overflowing with people. The main streets are almost impassable with the streams of men, women and children.
The crews of the American, French,
Austrian, Roumanian and Spanish warships have been allowed shore leave.
The Austrians, as the representatives of one of the powers in the triple alliance, have been the chief objects of interest to the spectators.

Pleasure steamers, loaded to their utmost capacity with crowds of sightseers, have been making numberless trips in the harbor, each one going the rounds of the warships, which are the central feature in the great spectacle.
Each pleasure steamer, as it came aboard of a man-of-war, exchanged cheers with the jolly tars on board, and none of them ever seemed to grow weary or to half succeed in making enough noise to do justice to the occasion. A large number of private yachts have also arrived in the harbor, and add much to the grace and animation
of the scene.

The Empress Augusta of Germany arrived and was received at the station with great ceremony and was driven to the Schloss and saluted by artillery and the cheering of the multitude which lined all the streets.

One of the notable features of the celebration of the opening of the canal was the banquet at the Rathaus in Hamburg last night.
The emperor, wearing the same garde du corps uniform and Order of the Black Eagle as he wore upon alighting
from the train at the railroad station,
entered the hall, accompanied by Burgmaster Lehman, in his picturesque robes of office, with the white ruffles worn by his predecessors of the sixteenth century, reproduced in many historical pictures on the walls of the Rathaus.

There was a loud fanfare of trumpets as his majesty walked to the head of the imperial table, bowing right and left on his way to his seat.
His majesty sat with the regent of Bavaria, Prince Luitpold, the king of Württemberg, the Grand Duke of Hesse, the Grand Duke of Oldenburg
and other German princes on his right and with Burgmaster Lehman, the king of Saxony, the Grand Duke of Saxe-Weimar-Eisenach, the Grand Duke of Mecklenburg-Schwerin and the Duke of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha on his left.
The Duke of York, the Grand Duke
Alexis of Russia, the Duke of Genoa, Prince Ludwig of Bavaria, the Grand
Duke Charles Stephanie of Austria, Sir
Edward Malet, the British ambassador at Berlin and M. Herbet, the French ambassador at Berlin, were seated opposite the emperor. The number of guests at his majesty's table was 64,
and the total number of guests, including the members of the diplomatic corps, who dined in a separate room, was 600. The varied uniforms of the guests, the contrasting colors, the profusion of military and other decorations and the general aspect of stately magnificence and power, presented a splendid spectacle.

The emperor made a pleasing speech.

THE WORLD'S W. C. T. U.

Lady Somerset and Frances E. Willard
Speak—Reports Made.

LONDON, June 20.—The third annual convention of the World's Woman's Christian Temperance union opened in Queen's hall with a prayer meeting led by Mrs. Charles Archibald, president of the Maritime provinces, W. C. T. U., of Canada. The convention was called to order by the president, Miss Frances E. Willard. The rollcall of official members followed, and then came the appointment of committees on credentials, courtesies, finances and resolutions.

Then followed the report of the executive committee and the address of welcome by Lady Henry Somerset, president of the British Woman's Temperance association. Miss Willard then addressed the meeting.

The reports of the different superintendents were delivered, and at midday there were prayers led by Mrs.
Elizabeth Selmer, president of the Denmark W. C. T. U. of Copenhagen.

The prayers were followed by a memorial service in honor of "our promoted comrades," the memorial address
being delivered by Miss Frances E.
Willard.

Later the report of Miss Alice Gulick of San Sebastian, Spain, formerly of Boston, was presented.
The superintendent of the Sunday school department recommended that the Women's Christian Temperance Unions throughout the world unite in an effort to make this last quarterly temperance Sunday of 1895, which falls on Nov. 24, a special temperance day, not only in the public schools, but in the churches as well.

J. O. U. A. M. Officials.

OMAHA, June 20.—The Junior Order of American Mechanics has selected Denver for the place of holding the next annual convention, June 16, 1896.
The following officers were elected:
National councillor, C. W. Tyler, Richmond; vice councillor, P. A. Shannon, Pittsburg; treasurer, J. Adam Soli,
Maryland; conductor, Dr. J. L. Cooper,
Fort Worth, Tex.; warden (inside), W.
A. Howard, Nebraska; sentinel (outside), J. L. Ingram, St. Louis; chaplain, John W. Pittenger, Indiana; chaplain,
Dr. H. R. Littlefield, Portland, Or.

A Missing Man's Body Found.

ROCHESTER, June 20.—The body of Jacob S. Kerngood, who so mysteriously disappeared from a Michigan Central train between Chicago and New York
last October, has been found near Niagara Falls. Kerngood was last seen alive at Detroit. Kerngood was a brother of Edward Kerngood of Denver and the senior member of the firm of Garson & Kerngood, clothing manufacturers of this city.

Opposed to Woman Suffrage.

ALBANY, June 20.—The Women's Anti-Suffrage League, through representatives in this city, has presented a memorial to the commission to draft a charter for cities of the second class, protesting against the granting of municipal suffrage to women. The petition asserts that the majority of the women taxpayers of the state do not desire suffrage.

Depends on Ransom's Health.

RALEIGH, June 20.—Conflicting reports have been current regarding the health of ex-Senator Ransom, now minister to Mexico, who recently returned to this state to recuperate. General Ransom, who is nearly 70 years of age,
is very feeble, but he expects to regain his accustomed health during his 60 days' leave. Upon the realization of this hope depends his return to Mexico.

Aid for Consumptives.

WINSTON, N. C., June 20.—Mr. Turft, a philanthropist of Boston, has purchased 5,000 acres of ground near Southern Pines, on which he will erect 500 cottages for the benefit of persons suffering with consumption. He will provide easy employment for the class of persons whom he has seen fit to make homes for.

A Negro Brute Lynched.

MEMPHIS, June 20.—Passengers by the Illinois Central train report that Will Chandler, a negro, has been lynched at Abbeville, Miss., for an attempted criminal assault on Miss Johns, daughter of a prominent citizen. The negro was hanged to a telegraph pole
and then riddled with bullets.

Internal Revenue Receipts Increased.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—A statement
prepared at the treasury department shows the aggregate receipts from internal revenue sources during the 11 months of the present fiscal year ended
May 30, 1895, to have been $131,420,636,
a gain of about $89,400 over the same period last year.

Whist League Convention.

MINNEAPOLIS, June 20.—At the business session of the American Whist League Robert Weems of Brooklyn presented his report as corresponding secretary. The league comprises 128 clubs, with 6,956 actual players and a total membership of 21,758.

Italians and Brazilians Fight.

Buenos Ayres, June 20.—Conflicts have occurred between Italians and Brazilians at Petropolis, a town 25 miles north of Rio Janeiro. The Italians tore the Brazilian flag. Many were wounded in the affray.

Fatally Wounded His Wife.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., June 20.—In a fit of jealousy Samuel Leahman fatally wounded his wife by shooting her in the left breast. The would-be murderer tried to escape, but was arrested and placed in jail.

Succeeds Admiral Meade.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Commodore
Bunce has been appointed to the command of the North Atlantic squadron
to succeed Admiral Meade.

BANK ROBBERS TRAPPED.

They Are Arrested While Holding Up
the Cashier.

COLORADO SPRINGS, June 20.—An attempt has been made to rob the Exchange National bank, but it failed, as Sheriff Bowers had been informed of the plot several days ago, and officers were watching for the would-be robbers.

Fred George and Red Hutchins extered the bank and George pulled a revolver and called on Cashier Heron to throw up his hands. He dropped behind the counter. George and Hutchins were quickly seized by Sheriff
Bowers and Deputy Sheriff Barnlett, who had followed them to the bank.
E. M. Kennedy, a livery stable man who was on guard at the bank door, and Robert O. McFarland, who was in charge of a team with which the robbers intended to escape, were also arrested. The prisoners are residents of the Springs. It is said Hutchins is the man who gave information of the plot
to the police.

Foreigners Can't Witness the Test.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Secretary
Herbert has authorized the ordinance bureau of the navy department to make a practical ballistic test of an armor plate mounted on a backing representing as nearly as possible the side of the battleship Iowa. The experiment is expected to be interesting and instructive to our own naval officers, but it is not probable that foreigners will be permitted to know the results, as it would be bad policy to make them acquainted with the resisting power of our battleships and any weakness they may have.

Will Marry an Earl.

CLINTON, Ia., June 20.—Miss Anna
Owens, the daughter of poor parents and for three years a teacher in the public schools here, has departed for Pueblo, Colo., where she is to be married, June 26, to William Carruthers,
earl of Cairnbeck, a Scottish nobleman.
The earl fell in love with her at first sight last summer. He has been living at Cripple Creek, incognito.

Civil Engineers' Convention.

HULL, Mass., June 20.—The American Society of Civil Engineers has formally opened its twenty-seventh annual convention here, with about 500
members and invited guests in attendance. The convention will continue until Saturday. The west and southwest are largely represented.

Standard Oil Company Sued.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., June 20.—
The West Virginia Transportation company of this city has brought suit for $100,000 against the Standard Oil company and for $50,000 against the Eureka Pipeline company for malicious conspiracy to destroy the property of the plaintiff.

Some of the French Protest.

PARIS, June 20.—As a protest against France partaking in the ceremonies at Kiel, various groups of persons have wreathed the Strasburg monument, which was erected to commemorate the loss of Alsace-Lorraine, in the Place de La Concorde.

Great Fire in a Russian Town.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 20.—The town of Danilov, in the province of Jarosl-
law, has been the scene of a great fire which destroyed several public buildings, a church and a number of private houses. Several persons met death in the flames.

Hill Comes Out Victorious.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., June 20.—The controversy between the extreme Baptists and the supporters of the liberal party of President Hill of the University of Rochester, has come to a climax with the result of a signal victory for President Hill.

Wanted For Murder in Germany.

NEW YORK, June 20.—United States
Marshal Bernhard has brought here
from Philadelphia Mrs. Mathilda Heine and Oscar Heine, who are wanted in Germany on the charge of having murdered the woman's husband there.

A Labor Leader Dead.

CHICAGO, June 20.—James Cullerton,
one of the leaders in the railway strike
of 1887 and the founder of the Switchmen's Mutual Aid association, has died at the Mercy hospital, after a long illness.

A Fatal Practical Joke.

CHICAGO, June 20.—An unknown man played ghost at the Paris laundry
in Thirty-first street and so badly scared
three of the girls that they are dangerously ill, one of them with but faint hopes of recovery.

Hayward Can Live Longer.

MINNEAPOLIS, June 20.—The supreme court has granted a stay in the execution of Harry Hayward for 30 days.

Italian Statesmen Fight.

ROME, June 20.—The Italian deputies have had an exciting debate over a socialist motion to extend general amnesty to those persons condemned by court-martials. A quarrel then broke out in the chamber. The socialist deputies Deandreis, Pili, Lorenzine and Casale got more violent, and finally led in a fistfight and a general tumult, amid which the sitting was suspended. A duel will result between Deandreis and Casale.

MODELS IN MACHINERY

The Equipment of the Williams Cask Factory

An Engine Which Works as Though There Were No Such Things as Hot Journals, and Costs Only a Few Dollars a Year to Operate—Something Out of the Ordinary.

An interested crowd stood in the commodious cask factory of S. C. Williams & Co. at the foot of Jackson street, yesterday afternoon, and marveled much at a bit of machinery, the equal of which has never been seen in the city, and as they wondered they gazed, for it had the regularity of a masterpiece of mechanism, yet a modest looking gentleman who stood nearby assured them that the cost of keeping it in motion was almost next to nothing.

The factory has been finished within the last few days, and within two weeks will be turning out casks at a speed never dreamed of by the coopers of old. Every appliance that will hasten the construction of a barrel from the moment the staves are cut is there to push it along, and great things are expected when the plant is put in operation. Many facilities are now used for the first time, and the arrangement is superb. The economy of space is nothing short of wonderful, but there is ample room for the work, and the projectors of the enterprise have just cause to feel elated at the success which has attended their carefully laid plans. The factory is so arranged that a barrel starting in construction at one end will never again interfere with the handling of raw material.

The whole equipment looked very nice when the visitors walked through the building, but the point of attraction upon which all eyes rested was the handsome piece of dull and polished metal which occupied a prominent place, and which throbbed with a slight pulsation, while the powerful cylinder gave out force sufficient, and more than sufficient, to move every wheel in the factory. It was what is known to machinists as a gas engine, a reliable motor of modern construction, in which all the ideas of a brainy man are centered upon the thought of saving money in the production of power. The gentleman who smilingly explained the machine and its workings was Mr. A. L. Harbison, general traveling agent of the Pierce-Crouch Engine company, New Brighton, Pa., and the engine was made by the concern he represents. Although of 12-horse power, it occupies but small space, and works, as the old engineers say, like a charm. When good natural gas is used it requires but 10 cubic feet to the indicated and 12 to the actual horse power per hour, and an increase of two cubic feet for each of the above amounts when the power is artificial gas. In construction its simplicity is nothing short of wonderful. There is no multiplicity of parts, and intricate and delicate mechanism is not there. The close regulation was also marked, the variation in speed being reduced to a minimum by a sensitive governor, while it proved an unusual steadiness under varying loads. The compactness and weight of the wonderful little thing could not but attract attention, and Mr. Harbison explained that there was a surplus power over the rated capacity, even when the engine was running at a normal speed. The iron, bronze and steel parts of the engine showed the highest quality of material and the best of workmanship. Another marked characteristic is the manner in which the flywheels are placed inside the bearings. With the built up crank shaft, discs being cast in and a part of the flywheels, advantages are presented which cannot be beaten. Hard machinery steel shafts are forced into accurately bored holes in the discs, and the bearings are solid, bushed with hard bronze and automatic ring oilers. The patent alloy tube is heated to ignite the charges without any seeming device or mechanism to control it, and with perfect success. An electrical igniter can be secured if the owner desires, but the other is recommended as being less troublesome and inexpensive. The governor is a perfect contrivance and instantly adjusts itself to maintain an even, regular speed. Taken all in all, the engine is a beauty, and those who saw it were delighted at its working, the sharp, short explosions as the power did its work being a welcome relief to the monotony of the engine room. Its chief points, simplicity, durability and cheapness, are apparent, and showed an exceptional machine for electric light plants. Mr. Crouch, the inventor, worked for years before his machine was complete, but when finished he had an engine second to none.

Mr. Williams has taken the agency for East Liverpool and Wellsville, and proposes to push the business. He is already talking with pottery companies, and may put a machine of 25 horse power in a well known factory. Mr. Harbison, the general agent, is a relative of Frank H. Sebring, and that enterprising manufacturer was one of the interested parties who viewed the test. The engine is a beauty, and the best gas machine in the market.

GOING TO CHURCH.

The Junior Mechanics Will Observe Patriotic Sunday.

At the last meeting of the national council of Junior Mechanics, the Sunday preceding the Fourth of July was set apart as patriotic Sunday, and all subordinate councils were ordered to attend church on that day. The local Mechanics have adopted the plan and will on Sunday morning listen to a sermon from Doctor Huston at the First Methodist Episcopal church. As this is the first observance of the day, a large attendance of members is expected.

Explanatory.

The lady decorators of Knowles, Taylor & Knowles are indignant at some would-be joker for putting up a practical joke on them in having published in the News Review of June 19, an account of the formation of a ball club of said ladies, and of their indulging in practice games on the bill for the last few evenings. The decorators indignantly deny the assertions made in yesterday's issue, and we gladly publish this statement, despite the fact that our informant is a companion employe and an acquaintance and friend of the decorators in question. Practical jokes can sometimes be carried too far.

Will Test Their Speed.

C. C. Aughenbaugh, of Beaver Falls, and George H. Hale, of this city, members of the Eclipse racing team, are entered in the races by electric light at Pittsburg Athletic club park, Pittsburg, tomorrow night. They will have a chance to test their speed, as some of the crack riders are entered for the contests. They are entered in all four races, one-fourth mile open; one-half mile open; one mile open and two mile open. The practice by the boys at East End has put them in good form for the races.

Home Again.

Orville McKinnon, Thomas Cartwright and Bert Welch have returned from Columbus, their pardons being granted and making them a happy trio of young men. They have many friends in this city who have long since considered the circumstances surrounding their incarceration and who are willing to look over past actions and greet them as before; good citizens who always stand ready to offer a chance to offenders to do right who are many times worse than the boys mentioned.

Score For James Mullen.

By an annoying error yesterday the News Review made it appear in the account of the Cain hearing that James Mullen had struck Aurochs when it should have said Cain. Mullen was the young man who accompanied Aurochs, and was his friend. The correction is cheerfully made as Mullen had nothing more to do with the row than chance to be present.

Smith Bound Over.

LISBON, June 20.—The papers in the case of Lydie Wilson versus Milton Smith, of East Liverpool, a serious charge which was aired in Squire Rose's court recently, were made out today and filed in Clerk King's office. The amount of bond is $500.

Talk of Compromise.

Timothy Connors states that propositions to compromise his case against M. E. Golding, which was decided by the supreme court in his favor for $3,000, were made as late as yesterday but all offers were refused. The case will have an airing next Monday.

At Spring Grove.

The families of George Croxall and N. G. Macrum have moved from East Liverpool to the grove, and are occupying their cottages. The poles for the new tent which will cover the people who attend campmeeting have arrived.

Missionary Meeting.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary society is holding a convention in the First United Presbyterian church today. Delegates from other towns are present and much business of importance is being transacted.

His Mother Ill.

James Clendening, of West Market street, left this morning for Toronto where his mother is dangerously ill. The young man buried his father there last week.

A Household Treasure.

D. W. Fuller, of Canajoharie, N. Y., says that he always keeps Dr. King's New Discovery in the house and his family has always found the very best results follow its use; that he would not be without it if procurable. G. A. Dykeman druggist, Catskill, N. Y., says that Dr. King's New Discovery is undoubtedly the best cough remedy; that he has used it in his family for eight years, and it has never failed to do all that is claimed for it. Why not try a remedy so long tried and tested. Trial bottles free at Potts drug store. Regular size 50 cents and $1.

HAVANA MAY BE SEIZED.

The United States Determined to Make Spain Pay the Mora Claim.

New York, June 20.—A special from Washington indicates that the government has demanded that Spain immediately pay the Mora claim of $1,500,000 or severe measures will be taken for its collection.

Antoine Maximo Mora was an American citizen owning valuable sugar property in Cuba. During an insurrection in that island it was confiscated by the Spanish government. Should the Spanish government neglect to properly adjust the matter, the court is authorized to grant the necessary funds or should the cortes refuse to allow an appropriation for Mora, it may become necessary to occupy Havana and to retain control of the custom houses there until an amount equal to the Mora indemnity has been collected.

An Official Under Contempt.

DETROIT, June 20.—City Assessor Alfred Farnsworth is summoned to appear in police court today to answer to a charge of contempt of court in refusing to fully answer questions asked him privately by the court in reference to the conduct of certain aldermen who are suspected of having a hand in boodle transactions.

Found In a Convent.

St. LOUIS, June 20.—Miss May Belle Cruchfield, the young heiress who so mysteriously disappeared a few days ago, has been found in the convent of the Good Shepherd, whither she had gone voluntarily in pursuance of a frequently expressed determination to join that community. She refuses to return home.

Inspector McLaughlin Sentenced. New York, June 20.—Police Inspector McLaughlin has been sentenced to two years and six months' imprisonment for extortion in Sing Sing. One week's time is allowed him in which to settle up his affairs.

With Thorns In Her Eyes.

She was thrown on the world. "Merciful heaven!" she gasped. Considerable turf was knocked off the world where she struck it. Before anybody could reach her she had risen and was swiftly leading her bicycle away.—Town Topics.

WELLSVILLE.

IN POLICE COURT.

Lyman, the Cleveland Man, Bound Over. A Few Arrests and Trials.

Robert J. Lyman, the Cleveland man who has gained notoriety in both cities, is now in deeper water than ever. He was brought before Mayor Sinclair yesterday afternoon and charged with attempt to skip his board bill of $11 at the Arlington hotel. He was bound over to court in the sum of $100 and is still in jail. He expected to hear from friends, but so far they have not come to his rescue, and he will go to Lisbon.

A vendor of spectacles forgot that there such a thing as licenses when he started in to dispose of his goods here yesterday. He was arrested and paid a fine of $5.40 this morning for the offense.

Mayor Sinclair is having an interesting case this afternoon, that of Tarr versus Runyan, the outcome of the troublous times in this place when Doctor Tarr's phaeton was wrecked. The damages claimed are $60.

Four of the railroad bums were put at work on the streets yesterday and were still hard at it today. They will work their fines out unless they leave as their predecessors have done, quickly and mysteriously.

TO VOTE ON BONDS.

Permission Granted, but the Movement Will Likely Fail.

Permission was granted by the court at Lisbon today for a vote on $35,000 worth of bonds by Wellsville people for improvement of the city water works. The vote will be taken on Thursday next, but it is generally predicted that it will be defeated. The sentiment expressed by one resident is the same as shown all over the city. He said:

"Why the idea of spending $35,000 on the new pump is ridiculous. The old place cannot be fixed up satisfactorily. Why not take $150,000 while they are at it and build a new pumping station on a new site. The old one is such that the supply pipe is just below the rolling mill dump where hundreds of people throw refuse. I have heard that a resident offered to fix up the old pumps and keep them going as long as possible for $1,000. But we don't want that, even if it is $34,000 cheaper. It's a new water works or none at all, and I think the people will vote that way."

About City Hall.

City hall was deserted today. Not a case appeared on the mayor's docket, and the jail was empty. Business in the police court line is exceedingly dull.
